DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of invention I, claims 1-38, and species/sub-species of figures 1a-1b, 7a-7b and 4a-4b in the reply filed on May 04, 2007 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)). Examiner further acknowledges that applicant believes that claims 1, 2, 6-9, 11-19 and 25-33 read on the elected species/sub-species of figures 1a-1b, 7a-7b and 4a-4b. Examiner agrees with applicant that 1, 2, 6-9, 11-19 and 25-33 read on the elected species/sub-species of figures 1a-1b, 7a-7b and 4a-4b. Examiner also acknowledges that applicant has cancelled claims 39-42 directed to non-elected invention II.

Claims 3-5, 10, 20-24 and 34-38 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on May 04, 2007.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is too long and contains implied language, i.e. "The present invention." Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 6-9, 11, 12, 14-19 and 25-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Han (US Patent Number 6,148,699), cited by applicant.

Han disclose various embodiments of a tool comprising: a drive shaft, e.g. 14, comprising a tapered inner shaft and a cannulated fastener driving portion, e.g. 40, having threads, and outer sleeve, e.g. 50, wherein the sleeve engaging portion and the drive shaft engaging portions comprise complementary threads (see figures 2 and 3), a handle, e.g. 12, a fastener engaging portion (see figures 2 and 3), a plurality of radial members e.g. 16, and a locking clip, e.g. 70 (see figures 1-4).

With regard to the statement of intended use and other functional statements, they do not impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over Han, which is capable of being used as claimed if one so desires to do so. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference "teach" what the subject patent teaches, but rather it is only necessary that the claims under attack "read on" something in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 781 (CCPA 1983). Moreover, the manner in which a device is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3733

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Han (US Patent Number 6,148,699), cited by applicant in view of Dallara et al. (US Patent Publication Number 2002/0188301), cited by applicant.

Han discloses the claimed invention except at least a portion of the sleeve having a roughened outer surface. Dallara et al. comprises a tool wherein at least a portion of the sleeve, e.g. 109, has a roughened outer surface and teach a roughened outer surface to enhance contact with an object (see paragraph 0031). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to construct the device of Han with at least a portion of the sleeve having a roughened outer surface, in view of Dallara et al., to enhance contact with an object.

Conclusion

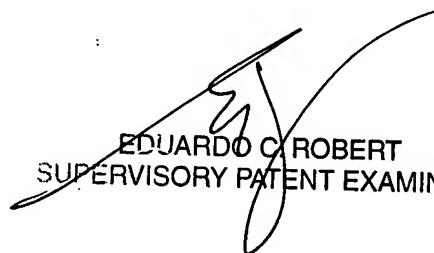

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO 892 for art cited of interest.
